In the first quarter of 2017 we invested considerable time and Company resources into the preparation for launch of our in-licensed patented hair loss shampoo, conditioner, and leave in foam which we believe will provide meaningful contributions to our business in the near future. We also began investing additional time and Company resources into an internal media strategy that has already begun to positively impact our business. Both of these trends impacted our overall sales in the first quarter of 2017, which we currently estimate to be approximately $438,000. However, we believe these changes to our business will drive the Company's long-term success.
